Description

The Akyga® AK-USB-47 magnetic USB cable is the perfect solution for owners of devices with a micro USB B connector. It facilitates quick and easy connection of smartphones, wireless speakers or other mobile devices to a power source. An additional advantage of the magnetic plugs is that they reduce the risk of dirtying the socket on the device. The inserted magnetic connector effectively protects it from daily wear and tear. This significantly extends the life of the USB port. This is particularly good news for people who use their device in dusty environments.

What's more, using the magnetic USB cable is extremely intuitive and simple. All you have to do is bring the cable close to the micro USB port and it will instantly connect to the tip. Then we can use the cable to both charge the device and transfer data.

The magnetic cable comes with a USB micro B plug. You can easily replace it with a Lightning or USB-C connector. This means that you can charge different standards of devices with one cable, allowing you to reduce the number of cables in your drawer or bag.
